
CONCERN HAS BEEN expressed in many circles about the apparently renewed efforts, editorially speaking, that is, on the part of the San Jose Mercury-News supporting the consolidation of all the cities of Santa Clara County into just one gigantic city.

"Supporting" is really not the proper word to use to describe the Merc-News efforts.

"Initiating" or "advocating" would probably be better descriptive terms.

Of course, this consolidation hangup on the part of the San Jose newspaper dynasty is nothing new. The idea was first broached in their newspaper columns at least 15 years ago when, largely through the newspaper's efforts, aided and abetted by the political wheels of San Jose at that time, a determined effort was made to annex the City of Milpitas to San Jose.

An annexation election was actually held in which the people of Milpitas overwhelmingly turned thumbs down on the idea of joining San Jose.

We recall at the time that it was openly stated that, if Milpitas would go for the bait, the same sort of proposal would be presented to Campbell, then right down the pike for all the other cities.

After their dismal failure in Milpitas, the would-be consolidators crawled back into the woodwork and, except for an occasional peep now and then during the ensuing years, the consolidation-merger bit, openly anyway, was put aside and was relatively dormant.

That is, until recent months when San Jose-watchers felt that there was a stepped-up activity on the part of the San Jose newspapers.

They cite numerous editorials on the subject that supposedly were based on a "survey of county residents".

What survey?

UNFORTUNATELY, "SURveys" in too many cases have become meaningless and, too often they simply mean that a selected group of people have been asked leading questions to bolster conclusions that have already been made.

To start with we doubt the validity of any "survey" that concludes that the people of the county were in favor of consolidation of all cities into one big conglomerate mess.

As an editor of another newspaper (not the San Jose Merc-News combine) asked: "Would you like to live in a San Jose, governed by the genious of the various interests that have long been dominent there? Has San Jose shown any ability to solve its problems, which are the same as Los Angeles, because San Jose has modeled itself on the terrible example of urban sprawl? Can you imagine the bureaucracy that would result from that mad idea?"

But we think something should be made crystal clear in all this mumbo-jumbo.

The San Jose Merc-News, in our opinion, will not benefit financially to any degree by any such consolidation as their newspapers propose.

Shucks, that newspaper operation now is one of the most successful in the country and "consolidation" per se will not mean anything particular to it.

But it is like our contemporary in another newspaper suggests: "The whole idea is too horrible to contemplate seriously and we hope that San Jose will turn toward its own terrible problems of identity, individuality, urban decay, suburban decay, esthetics and other minor ailments, and let the rest of us attend to our problems, none so bad as theirs."

All we can add to that is a postscript.

Why should the other cities in the county bail out San Jose?

ON PLANNING COMMISSION AGENDA

Local Sunsweet plant to become "The Factory"

Plans for the conversion of a Campbell landmark, the old Sunsweet packing-canning-drying facility, into a pedestrian-oriented shopping, dining and entertainment complex to be called The Factory (above) will come before the Planning Commission next Tuesday, February 20. (Monday is a holiday.)

The plans call for an extensive remodeling project of a number of the sturdy old buildings (some of brick) and the removal of several sheds. Demolition and sand-blasting have already begun on the site (above).

Developers of the project, which will have approximately 80,000 square feet of space for public shops and services, are Richard Millen and W. H. MacLaughlin who purchased the property from Sunsweet Growers and Sunsweet Dryers.

The plans for the five-acre property on Central Avenue that will be before the Planning Commission include the parking areas, the buildings that will be retained and will also designate the location of the south loop street.

The developers maintain that the design calls for "beautifying and refurbishing the facility into one of the Santa Clara valley's most pleasant and unusual commercial attractions."

Other items on the agenda of the Planning Commission next Monday, include the application of Errico and Byrnes for approval of a 12-unit apartment complex at 240 Union Avenue and also plans for an office and warehouse at 503 Salmar Ave., submitted by Bill Dean.

Revised plans of the building at 2110 Winchester Blvd. to be used for Scuba diving and swimming instruction will also be before the Commission. Bill Jones and Orlie Paxton are the applicants for the project.

Before the Commission also will be two applications for conversion of residences into offices that have been continued from previous meetings.

At the last meeting, members of the commission expressed impatience with the delays that have ensued in these conversion applications.

Carl W. McGee has applied for such a conversion at 34 W. Campbell Ave. as has Gold Seal Realty at 492 Nottingham.

Another continued application on the agenda is that of Vern L. Buckle at 240 Dillon for a plumbing shop and office at that location.

On the agenda also is the application of Ira Kirkorian for an auto service center at 3303 Winchester Blvd. Kirkorian is also asking for a variance from the 10-feet specified for landscaping and for a reduction in the sidewalk required.

A public hearing is scheduled for the zone change application (from R-M to C-1-S) of Jerry F. Saia and Frank P. Ducato at 1315 Pollard Road to allow a convenience market on the site.

The application of Carpeteria at 423 E. Hamilton Ave. for a free-standing pole sign is also on the agenda.

VIRGINIA-JEFFREY-BUDD

City to look for solution to hazards at intersection

Recognizing the traffic problems that exist at the intersection in which Jeffrey, Budd and Virginia avenues are involved, the City Council on Monday night directed the police and public works department to study the situation and hopefully find a solution in cooperation with the residents in the area.

Concern over the hazards that exist because of the design of the streets at that location and the accidents which have taken place, was expressed by residents who also presented a petition with 174 signatures.

Mrs. Donna Mitchell, of 781 Jeffrey Ave., who presented the petition said that two girls (one was her daughter) had been struck down in the crosswalk and another injured in recent months.

Grant Long, of 780 Jeffrey, also called attention to the dangers that exist because of speeding cars, the sweeping curve and the poor visibility.

Bud Osborne, of 722 Budd Ave., added that both Budd and Virginia had become "through" thoroughfares and there was excessive speeding on the streets. He suggested that more patrolling of the streets might lessen the speeding.

Another matter of concern to residents was expressed to the City Council orally by E.S. Northrup, a resident of the Hamilton Downs development.

Northrup said that there had been an upswing of thefts in the Hamilton Downs development. He commended Capt. John Butler and Sgt. Don Dore' of the police department for their presentation of security measures the residents could use.

WITH NOISE LEVEL STANDARDS

Dog kennel wins approval

After several false starts, the City Council on Monday night finally arrived at sound level standard for a proposed dog kennel at 1849 Pollard Road and approved the zone change that would allow such an operation.

The unanimous action of the four-member Council (Councilman Ralph Doetsch was absent) thus cleared the way for the applicant, Joyce Kealoha, to develop plans for the kennel and present them to the Planning Commission.

The application has been pending since October while the Planning Commission and City Council sought to find some noise level standard for dogs.

Before the plans can be approved and construction start, the Planning Commission must be assured that the noise level of the kennel will not exceed 60 decibels 25 feet from the property line and the dogs must be inside the kennel after 8 p.m. with a sound level of not more than 8 dba above the local ambient.

The zone change ordinance also specified that no additional runs can be constructed within a period of two years.

The sound level standard (60 dba) that was finally approved decreased that which had been recommended (70 dba) by the Planning Commission.

What concerned the councilmen was the question of enforcing any noise standard.

Mayor Bill Podgorsek had to relinquish the gavel to second the motion by Councilman Rusty Hammer to include the recommendations of the Planning Commission, which were specified as guidelines only, in the ordinance.

Hammer's motion would have changed the proposed "guidelines" into "conditions" in the ordinance.

Before the motion could come to a vote, the Council recessed to allow City Attorney Bob Dempster to rule on how noise levels would be enforced. Dempster explained that "guidelines" would be enforced by staff while "conditions" would be a zoning violation and under police jurisdiction;

During the "caucus" held during the recess, the councilmen indicated that it would be better to have the original plans meet the noise level standards rather than have problems later. They also favored the 60 dba instead of 70

To clear the board, after the recess the Council unanimously rejected Hammer's motion and then proceeded to approve Councilman Norm Paul's motion which set the standard that must be met before the plans are approved.

Present at the meeting was Fred Chez, owner of commercial property adjacent to the proposed kennel, who had opposed the application from the beginning.

In a bitter letter to the City Council, Chez claimed that he had been treated unfairly at the last meeting of the Planning Commission when neither he nor his acoustical consultant, Ed Pack, were allowed to speak.

He claimed that "guidelines" were not legal.

Before the Council took action on Monday, both Pack and Chez spoke. They were answered briefly by James Miller, representing Miss Kealoha.

CAMPBELL UNION (elementary) SCHOOL DISTRICT

Ralph J. Steinberg will not seek reelection as trustee

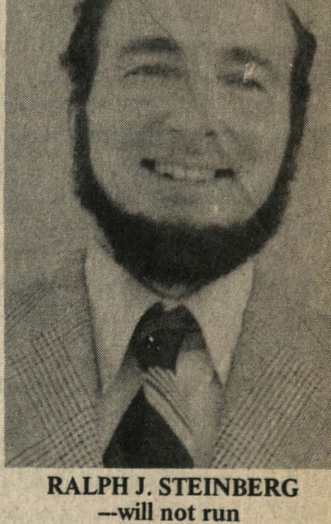
Ralph J. Steinberg, 35, of 144 W. Rosemary Ln., Campbell, a San Jose attorney, who was elected to the Campbell Union (elementary) School District in 1969, will not run for reelection when his term expires this year.

Steinberg, who has served as president and clerk during his four year tenure as a trustee, made the announcement at the board meeting last Thursday.

The deadline for filing as trustee is this Friday, Feb. 16, and besides Steinberg, the terms of Mrs. Judy Ruscigno and Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong also expire. Neither one, however, had made any public announcement of their intentions at press time this week.

The election for trustees is on April 17.

Although a number of potential candidates have "taken out their papers", as of this week, announcements of candidacies have been made by only four candidates, Gordon Abbott, George Baker, Mrs. Virginia Vaughn and Carl E. Samuelson.



RALPH J. STEINBERG

In announcing that he would not seek reelection, Steinberg said that the increasing demands on his law practice "make another four year

AFTER CAMPBELL SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Police disperse irate lettuce ban advocates

Campbell police last Thursday were called upon to clear the hall after the meeting of the trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District had been adjourned.

As far as can be determined, it marked the first time in local history that such action has been taken.

A contingent of Chicanos and allied lettuce boycott sympathizers during the meeting had voiced objections to the trustees refusing to ban iceberg lettuce as a sympathy gesture for the United Farm Workers battle with the growers.

The agenda of the meeting included 15 letters that had been written urging the board to reconsider a previous vote that allowed the district to continue to purchase iceberg lettuce for the cafeteria.

Dr. Bob King, board president, ruled that the clerk should read only those letters whose authors were in the audience. Three letters were read. Dr. King also explained that replies had been sent to all 14.

However, the protestors in the audience claimed that the responses were only form letters and demanded to be heard.

Oral comment was allowed from about six others and then the next items on the agenda were taken up.

REINFORCEMENTS

While the trustees were considering the other items on the agenda, some of the protestors left the room and apparently summoned reinforcements and by the time the last item on the agenda, "public discussion at discretion of president", approximately 30 UFW sympathizers had crowded into the board room. Some had photographic and recording equipment.

While some of the sympathizers were still clamoring to be heard, Dr. King adjourned the meeting.

They continued to mill around after the adjournment even after the trustees had left the room. The police were then called.

Although a number of implied threats were made by some of the more belligerent members of the group, there was no physical contact and the group dispersed at the urging of the two Campbell police officers who had answered the call.

Many, however, were heard to vow that they would be back before the board again.

Main spokesman for the group at the meeting was Mrs. Margaret Ota who claimed that they were merely trying to work under the establishment rules and felt that by not being recognized they were not being treated in a democratic way.

OTHER ACTIONS

In other actions last Thursday, the trustees agreed upon the recommendation of Dr. Orrin Bachelor, business manager, to construct four permanent classrooms at Forest Hill and four at Rosemary to be available by September, 1973.

The action modifies the board's action of last November when it was decided that seven portable classrooms be built. At the end of the fiscal year, the district is returning 14 portable classrooms.

The business manager had indicated that it was felt that the permanent construction would best serve the district and even with the loss of 14 portables, the district still has 36 to use where needed.

It was also reported that Moorpark School had been declared eligible for noise abatement programs by the state's department of public works from state highway funds.

Noise from "280" and "17" has affected Moorpark School for some time.

Under the state plan, only those classrooms that are specified directly as affected by the noise will undergo noise abatement procedure but the district can improve other classrooms in a cooperative arrangement.

The board authorized the district architect to design the necessary building alterations in conjunction with the state program.

The business manager was also directed to execute on behalf of the district the notice of completion for the fire renovation work done at Quito School.

Trustee Ralph Steinberg at the meeting announced that he would not seek reelection when his present term expires. (See separate story.)

Editorial

In balance

On Wednesday, Feb. 28, The Campbell Press will publish its eighth annual progress edition.

Indications are that this year's issue will equal or exceed any previous edition.

The theme of this year's edition will be "A Community in balance in 1973."

The objective, of course, will be to show that Campbell is in the fortunate position of not being "overbalanced" in any one phase of development.

In general that means that, basically, the right proportion for a strong community has been maintained in the industrial, commercial and residential developments.

Obviously there will be those who will argue that the proper balance does not exist and there is too much of one type of development as opposed to another.

While we concede that "balance" could be merely a matter of opinion and would have a different meaning for some than others, we feel that this community has kept its balance well during these years of rapid expansion and growth.

And it has not been an easy task.

It first must be established that growth was inevitable, although there are probably many who would have liked to have kept the rural atmosphere of the Campbell that was incorporated in 1952.

The founding fathers of this city in 1952 in no way could have even dreamed of the expansion and growth that was going to take place in two decades, otherwise a more fitting description of this community than "orchard city" would have been used at the time of incorporation.

In March of this year, the City of Campbell marks its 21st year of cityhood and the "orchard city" tag is extremely incongruous today.

Just how many orchards are there now within the city limits of Campbell?

In 21 years a complete change has taken place in this community...

In 1952 this was an agricultural-oriented community but today it is almost completely urbanized.

During this transition period, developments have taken place within the city borders that have been both imaginative and startling and a far cry from the farm community of 21 years ago.

Thus, as the city reaches its 21st birthday this year, we thought it would be in keeping to review these developments of the past two decades to see how well the balance has been kept.

In our opinion, based on our close observation of the scene for most of the years this city has been in existence, the once predominately farm community has become a well-balanced urbanized community.

As we said there will be those who will argue that point.

But we feel that on the whole over these years, proper guidelines were used and an orderly development has taken place.

It has not been an easy job and, on many occasions, some of the decisions that were made have had a far-reaching impact, often much different than even the most visionary city official had anticipated.

There are many examples we could use to show how the important role that adequate planning and the establishment of proper guidelines played in the community's expansion and development.

We submit, as a case in point, that one of the most important "guidelines" was the establishment of the Controlled-Manufacturing Zoning, (C-M) almost 14 years ago.

The C-M zoning was put on the city books over tremendous opposition.

Basically it has meant that the industries that located in certain areas of the town had to meet certain requirements that many felt were overly-restrictive and would stifle the development of those areas.

Opponents argued then that the city's tax base would suffer because firms would seek other sites in other cities for their developments.

We suggest that C-M has proved its worth and that even the most bitter opponent to the establishment of this type of zoning would concede its value today.

We feel that C-M zoning has been extremely important in keeping this city in balance.

We think we do have a balanced community in 1973.

What do you think?

started in Los Angeles County to "break up Los Angeles".

The "movement" supposedly started as a joke.

A group of mayors in an area immediately east of Los Angeles expressed concern about the rising taxes in Los Angeles County, mounting county employee salaries and the irresponsiveness of the Board of Supervisors.

Then somewhat facetiously it was suggested that the cities concerned could always secede from the county and form a new jurisdiction.

And the idea caught on.

It was emphasized time and time again that bigness was apparently not the answer for efficiency in government.

And speaking of "surveys" ....A survey was conducted of 28 cities that would be involved in the so-called "secession".

Replies from 14 indicated that secession was favored. Only one of the cities was opposed to the idea and the others were on the fence. They wanted to know more about it.

We thought it was all quite interesting.

That is in light of the noises that are being made in some quarters in this county that one huge city would alleviate all the problems.

In our opinion, it would just compound 'em.

THERE WERE QUITE A few chuckles, we understand, over the recent letter from the teachers' union in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District submitted to the school board on the settlement that was made in the Neal Royer vs. school district breach of contract suit.

The letter expressed distress over the settlement, particularly because the action was agreed to by three members of the board who had voted to remove Royer in the first place.

Most of the chuckles were reserved for this last paragraph in the letter:

"Finally, we are distressed because, if before, the Board lacked credibility only with its critics, it now must surely lack credibility with many of its defenders."

It seems a long time ago, The Campbell Press, editorially brought up this credibility bit about the school board in the Royer matter.

It is somewhat comforting (or is that the right word?) to know that after all this time the teachers' union now has finally come to the same conclusion that The Press reached a long time ago.

Of course, different approaches may have been used.

-0-

SOMEONE CALLED THE office last week shortly after the San Jose papers had reported that a jury after seven hours deliberation and a 40-day trial had awarded a $4.5 million judgment against Fred Sahadi, developer of the PruneYard-Towers complex in Campbell.

The caller wanted to know how come The Campbell Press had not reported the case?

The case involved a complicated situation a number of years ago when Sahadi was affiliated with a firm in southern California.

Unfortunately, The Press does not have a courthouse reporter so any report in this newspaper would have had to be a re-write of the Merc-News account.

Besides The Press is horribly provincial.

Based on that reasoning, we felt that "our" own exclusives, a comprehensive coverage to the Fire Department's baby-sitters' seminar, the "pops concert" of Campbell High, the mail distribution changes at the Campbell post office, announcements of candidates for the school board, and the need to condemn nine parcels for the widening of Hamilton Avenue, took precedence over a re-write of a news story in the Merc-News of a civil suit involving $4.5 million.

But you might saw it was sort of a turn-about.

Our "exclusives" did not appear in Merc-News either.

And we thought they were important items.

But we betcha no one bothered to call the Merc-News and ask how come they weren't run in those papers.

We suppose it is a question of relativity.

Whatever that means.

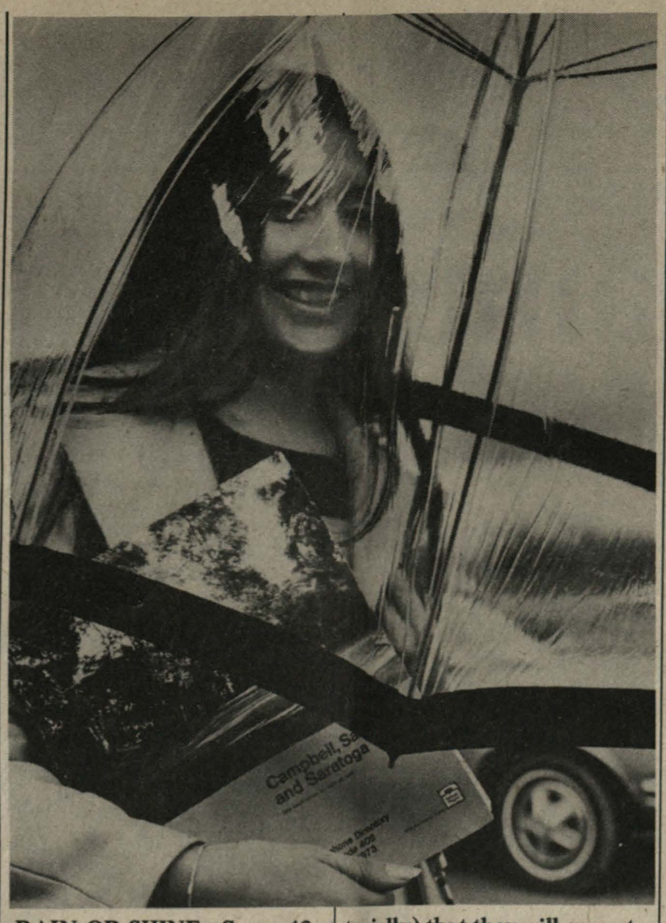
THAT SPREAD, INCIDENTALLY, that The Press did last week on the baby-sitters' seminar featured the behind-the-scenes people who have been responsible for the tremendous success of the program.

We thought the "faculty" of the seminar was deserving of recognition.

All of the instructors give willingly of their time without compensation of any kind.

And they are all specialists in their field.

Including the mothers, of course.



RAIN OR SHINE—Some 43,000 1973 Pacific Telephone directories are being delivered this week for the cities of Campbell, Saratoga and San Martin, and P.T.&T. employee, Rachel Coronado (a Campbell resident) emphasizes (pictorially) that they will go out—rain or shine.

Subscribers with no directory by next Monday (Feb. 19) should phone the telephone business office. There are 215,380 white page listings, and 843 total pages.

Council defers action on modified sign ordinance

Because of the lack of a full council (Councilman Ralph Doetsch was absent), the City Council on Monday night continued the public hearing on the amended sign ordinance.

The modified ordinance, as recommended by the Planning Commission, would prohibit freeway-oriented signs, an issue over which the Council may divide and thus it was felt a full council was needed to reach a decision.

For the same reason, action was also deferred until the next meeting on the open space element, fair housing and inter-city voting procedures.

Because of the sign ordinance continuance, the pending appeals of signs for the Gold Key furniture and the PruneYard were also deferred. Both appeals pertain to freeway-oriented signs.

The Council approved the $5000 semi-annual allocation to the Chamber of Commerce and approved the direct purchase of a dictaphone-recorder for the police department, for $8,400. Police Chief Don Burr explained that the item had been deleted from the contract awarded for other electronic equipment resulting in a saving of $1,716 to the city.

The Council also approved the application of a federal grant of $4,307 for the police department for visual aid equipment. The city's contribution would be $1,076 of the total.

The Council also authorized the calling for bids for furnishings in the engineering wing and approved modifications to the public address system in the city hall.

Approved also was a street light at Bland and Hedegard. In a recent Council meeting, George Hallyburton, of 134 Bland Ave., had called attention to increasing vandalism acts that occurred in an area at the rear of the high school campus.

Burglars take tools

In three separate burglaries last week tools valued at over $26,000 were stolen from Campbell businesses.

In the first, Robert N. Cubb, owner of Precision Image Manufacturing, 180 E. Sunnyoaks, reported the loss of over $20,000 in tools by theft to Campbell police.

The same day Fretwell Development Company, 180 E. Sunnyoaks reported some $600 in tools missing.

Valley Tool Company, 1157 Dell Ave. subsequently reported specialty equipment, valued at $5,000, missing. Police have the burglaries under investigation.

Letters to the Editor

ON MAIL SERVICE

Dear George:

The news item and the letter to the editor regarding the present condition of Postal Service should be good enough reason to add more comments to the bag. All of these raves should then be sent to Senator Alan Cranston to deliver to the committee now reviewing these conditions.

Economy? Outgoing mail put into the boxes adjacent to the Campbell post office (by edict of the San Jose post office the drops in the Campbell post office are not to be used on weekends), destined for Campbell addresses, must go to San Jose main for handling first. After eons of time wasted in their bumbling sorting process, this mail then comes back to Campbell for delivery. This is efficiency?

Small wonder why San Jose's central city core died! When they moved the main post office to the hinterlands on Meridian, they also increased the delays in delivery.. downtown to Meridian and back again for delivery. There is no such thing as same day delivery!

The crowning blow comes when you join the line on the abbreviated red carpet service (?) at San Jose main to await your turn, and then deal with some of the most indifferent clerks I've seen this side of the Mississippi.

Thank God we still have a local Campbell post office operating on week days! Campbell may be smaller than San Jose, but the clerks in the local post office should be loaned to San Jose to give San Jose main some lessons that they really need to learn!

Sincerely,
Alvin C. Beckett

WILL NOT RUN

Dear George:

As I announced at the School Board meeting on February 8, I will not be a candidate for re-election to the School Board. The increasing demands on my practice make another four year commitment to public office unrealistic.

I feel strongly that the time has come for the community to close ranks and to work towards the goal of making the Campbell Union School District the leading elementary school system in the State, which it has the potential of becoming. However, to achieve this goal, three important conditions, in my judgment, will have to be met.

First, there must be a willingness by the School Board, the staff and the community to recognize that the settlement of the Royer law suit against the District is a compromise which constitutes a reasonable adjustment of conflicting interests. While it is evident that no one will be entirely satisfied with all the elements of a compromise, it is also true that this settlement has provided a practical basis for the restoration of unity, without which educational progress is difficult if not impossible.

Secondly, the School Board, the staff and the community must recognize the need to make bold and innovative progress on a broad range of educational issues.

Thirdly, the efforts of the District must be governed by trustees and administrators who exhibit such leadership qualities as mature judgment, integrity, adherence to the highest standards of excellence, creativity, compassion, fairness, and above all, tolerance.

I deeply believe that in education, tolerance means not only the ability to respect differences of opinion but the awareness that differences of opinion are absolutely essential to the vitality of the educational process.

It is my hope that in this spirit our community will respond to the great and exciting challenge of making our educational system all that it is capable of becoming.

commitment to public office unrealistic."

(In a letter-to-the-editor in this week's issue, Steinberg emphasizes a number of basic points that he feels are necessary to be accomplished, if the school district is to develop as it should.)

In his statement, Steinberg indicated that he felt that the settlement of the Royer law suit should mark the end of a divisive era and the beginning of a period when the efforts of the school board, the staff and the community are devoted to the challenges of education in a rapidly changing society.

He emphasized the importance of "tolerance" in the governing of the district. He added that "tolerance means not only the ability to respect differences of opinion but the awareness that the differences of opinion are absolutely essential to the vitality of the educational process."

In conclusion he cited the forthcoming election as the testing ground when "the public will have the opportunity to choose the candidates who appear to exhibit the qualities essential to educational leadership and to reject those who do not."

Robbie: Speaking of dogs.

Ms.: Were we?

Robbie: Yes, shut up and listen.

BIG EARS

Such remarks were overheard at the Campbell game. Our question for the remarks was: How do you rate the Campbell Varsity Dribblers?

#12--cute, but short
#14--OK
#20--Cute
#22--Cute--but ours is absolutely adorable.
24--No. Dig his crazy socks.
30--Weird
#32--Not really very good.
#40--Real Yuck.
#42--All American straight A.
#50-- 50-50.
#52--Cutie.

Ms.: Can I ask you a personal question?

Robbie: Only if it doesn't concern me.

Ms.: How did you get to be a real person? I'd like to get some and become one too.

Robbie: It costs more than you can afford.

BANK OF AMERICA AWARDS

The Bank of America each year gives out two types of awards. The Specific and General Awards.

The Specific Awards are a certificate of achievement and go to: Art--Pam Falke; Drama--Lynn Ellis; Music--Elaine Marchesi; English--Elizabeth Burkhouse; Foreign Language--Liz Buckland; Social Studies--Debbie Gehman; Lab Science--Cheryl Cimburek; Math--Gary Massingill; Agriculture--Dennis Cavaco; Business--Cathy Castor; Home Economics--Moira Leyva; Trades and Industry--John Thomas.

The General Awards are a plaque. The students who receive these also get the opportunity to go to downtown San Jose and participate in the Zoning Competition. If they get first place, then they get to go down to Monterey. But the chances for this are very slim. General Award receivers are: Fine Arts--Mary Burkhouse; Liberal Art--Sandy Martin; Science and Math--Louise Johnson; Vocational Arts--Joann Koch.

Ms.: Here he comes, here he comes!

Robbie: Oh, I don't think I can stand it.

Ms.: I'll hold you down.

EGO CORNER

This week Ego Corner goes to our Valentine. (hearts go throb)

This year the coveted award goes to--the much heralded and scholastically eminent Kirk Daiz and his magical whoopee shoes.

Whoa, baby that's a-what we like.

Robbie: Well, Maureen, how'd it feel like working with a real person?

Ms.: Speaking of dogs...

Robbie: Were we?

Passing the Buc

by Sandy Mann

Hi, Gang! Happy Valentine's day, and all that. I hope you all are having fun (Bobbie--shame on you!) and are taking advantage of the one day a year you can declare your love to some ungrateful wretch who probably hates you anyway. "Ah well," we can always sigh, there's always next year....

WHOOPS, SORRY!!

As my career as a budding Yellow Journalist unfolds, I am constantly amazed at my ability to contort the truth into something vaguely resembling libel (and something even more resembling garbage).

I am referring mainly to a note I made week before last about Campbell's Speech and Debate team, whereby I mumbled something about winning a trophy at the Speech and Debate Tournament at West Valley Junior College, last January.

First, I'd like to mention that the SPEECH tournament (no debate) was held at BELLARMINE High School (Don't ask me why I said West Valley.), in competition with 16 other schools.

The neat thing about that was, while other schools sent in excess of a hundred participants, Campbell sent only 12, yet still managed to bag a fifth in the Sweepstakes competition, by virtue of the second place, the two thirds, and two fifths (86 Proof!) that was earned by Campbell's tiny, but determined competitors.

AAARRGH! Do you realize that almost half of Campbell's speech team PLACED!?! I was in the stupid thing for an entire year without making it into FINALS!

Of those who went who are in the same boat as I am, are Brad and Bonnie Buell (no, they're not married), JoAnn Whitmore, Bonnie Wright, Sue Mauldin, Mark Hansen, Tom Askeland and Louis Zurlo (you tell 'em, tiger!).

Those who made it to semi-finals are affectionately known as Dave ("Cheat Notes") Buell, Robin ("Giggles") Guardino, Lynn ("Whoopee") Martin and Lynn ("Anything Goes") Eldredge.

Those who placed were, Robin Guardino, with a third in Impromptu, and a fifth in Extemporaneous; Lynn Martin with a second in Girls Impromptu and a fifth in Extemp; and lastly, but not leastly, was Lynn Eldredge with a third in Dramatic Interpretation! So to these, and their coach, Miss Morashlian (did I spell it right?), My apologies, and my congratulations.

WARNING TO S.A. AND M.S.: Shame on you! I saw the whole thing during the Pops Concert!! What'sa Matta? You wanna corrupt me, or something?

FLASH: Is it true that "J.B." has switched her tastes from "Bier" to "Champagne?"

MESSAGE TO MS. SCHNYER: Broken leg or not, you gotta hurry up and get well, so you can see how well I'm doing playing left-handed tennis. You'd be proud of me.

AND THAT'S THE WEEK!

THE POPS WAS A PREVIEW

I went to Campbell's Pops Concert last Saturday, and the band was "nice" (for lack of a better word), but the Pop-Rock singing group FANTASMA that I'm always raving about was absolutely unreal!! Fantastic! They only sang a few songs, and didn't dance much, but it was enough of a show to convince everybody in the audience that their full length, professional debut on Thursday, March 1, was something that couldn't be missed. (no, they're not paying me to say this!)

(Ed. Note: But isn't there a member of the troupe who is a "Mann?")

This group has played at some of the district's junior highs', and will be performing at all of them, and some high schools in the area to boot. Also, they will perform at Plateau 7, and other like establishments, they have received an invitation to put on their concert at Pepperdine College, and while they are down in the L.A. area, they hope to sing at Disneyland. Do you get the feeling that this isn't your regular, run-of-the-mill high school singing group? Yeah. So do I.

Please come, or plan on coming, anyway, at 8 p.m. on Thursday, March 1, in the Campbell High School auditorium. Admission is $1. It will be an hour and a half concert.

Mr. Perkins has promised that it will be exclusively Fantasma, with due respect for the band, orchestra, Flag, Song, Letter, Banner, and Bell Girls, the Pirettes, and the Fresno City Poetry reading club, some of which always manages to sneak into these kinds of things.

WALKING THE PLANK

I know that this is a subject that is harped upon constantly, so I'm going to make this editorial as short as possible. It's about student democracy in Campbell High, and why it's such a farce, because nobody cares enough to vote for the voice they feel will best represent them. I know that nothing that has been said, or that I can say, or whatever will be said can change somebody who just doesn't care, but still this is my attempt.

So, for all the students at Campbell High who didn't cast a ballot in this last election:

Phooey.

TO HELP YOU FEEL ACQUAINTED
- We believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.
- That righteousness is simply "rightness".
- That there is no one that is righteous.
- That through faith in Christ's death for us, God forgives our past sins.
- That through this forgiveness we can have fellowship with God, person to Person.

Boy Scout

The Pioneer-Mission District of the Boy Scouts of America will observe the 63rd birthday of Scouting this month. It was 'way back in 1910, February 8 to be exact, that Scouting got its start.

The Pioneer-Mission District will be participating in a number of outdoor displays for the benefit of the public. These displays will be aimed at telling the public what the new Improved Scouting Program is all about.

On Saturday, February 10, a major outdoor display will be held at the Valley Fair Shopping Center. Over 16 troops, packs and posts have signed up for participation in the one-day activity.

Some of the projects that will be viewed by the public will be Search & Rescue techniques, promotional movies on the Santa Clara Council activities in Scouting, information on camping, participation programs in arts and crafts, puppet shows, baking and cooking, camp-outs and demonstrations by the "Drum & Feathers", a non-scouting group who will perform authentic Indian songs and dances. The "Drum & Feathers" provide shows at banquets, shopping centers, holiday activities and they travel throughout the country to demonstrate their skills.

Included in the new program is the Explorer division which is co-ed and directed at high school youth...the emphasis being on career training and skills. In the Pioneer-Mission District Explorer Post have been established over the past few years that offer familiarization to boys and girls in Marketing, Veterinary Medicine, Electronics, Police studies, Sales and Procurement, Aviation, Fire & Air Rescue, and an assortment of other career skills, some of which will be demonstrated on February 10 at the Valley Fair Shopping Center. It should be remembered that another Scouting display will be held on Saturday, February 24 at the West Valley Center. The same displays that are planned for the Valley Fair show will be seen at Westgate including; some additionals.

Several displays of Scouting activities can be seen elsewhere during Scouting's 63rd birthday. The Alum Rock Park Youth Science Institute will have a window display called Reptile Exotica and Fontanettis' Sporting Goods in Princeton Plaza will have a window display on Camping Equipment & Advancement Skills in Scouting. This display can be viewed all during the month of February.

Bonessa feted at recent retirement dinner here

A surprise retirement dinner was held recently for the Capri School custodian, John Bonessa at La Hacienda Inn in Saratoga.

"Mr. John" (as the students know him) has been a day custodian at Capri School for the last six years and has been with the Campbell Union Elementary District for nine years.

A 100% attendance of teachers, special consultants and classified employees servicing Capri School were on hand to honor Bonessa. His wife, Katie, was also invited to surprise her husband.

Mark Jennings, principal of Capri School, presented "Mr. John" with a joke gift of a gold dustpan and he also received a gold watch from the faculty.

Parents to get answers

Questions concerning the Campbell Union High School District will be discussed by Dr. Nick Montesano, superintendent, in the Campbell High School cafeteria this evening (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m.

Parents are urged to attend the meeting.

Four questions will highlight the evening: (1) What is the responsibility of the schools, parents and students toward a student's education; (2) How can parents best contribute to a better educational program at Campbell High; (3) What can parents expect in the way of changes in the Campbell Union High School District in the next few years; (4) What procedures do the school and district have to insure top quality education within the resources available?

CAMBRIAN ARTISTS

How to lower your winter PG&E bill despite your horoscope.

This horoscope indicates why your winter PG&E bill is higher. But here's how you can lower it, no matter what your sign: Insulate walls and ceilings. Weatherstrip windows and doors (and keep them shut). Pull drapes at night, but let the winter sun in during the day. Close fireplace damper when not in use. Turn off lights not needed. Lower furnace setting at night and when you're out.

OUR TOWN

by JoAnn Zoller

Valentine's Day 1973 has proven to be an occasion for a number of celebrations in our town. The CAMPBELL MOOSE LODGE held a dinner dance last Saturday night for their sweethearts, tomorrow is Ladies Day at the KIWANIS CLUB, and last week the GRANDMOTHERS' CLUB held their annual Valentine Social....

MORE ON THE SOCIAL SCENE....

Localites DON and GRACE HEBARD were among the 750 members and guests who attended the 10th Anniversary Ball of the British American Club held recently at the Hilton Hotel in San Francisco. Grace said that after the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner", glasses were raised and an enthusiastic toast of "long live the Queen" was offered. Guest of honor at the gala affair was television talk show star David Frost....

HERE'S an interesting example of "showmanship"... When the Mother's Guild of St. Lucy's Church asked FRANCES GARCIA to be the snake charmer in the circus theme fashion show they are planning in April, they had no idea what a good sport she could be about the whole thing. Especially, when someone suggested using a real snake. Mrs. Garcia made the necessary inquiries at local pet shops and one offered the use of a five foot gopher snake.

Frances said, "I was sure I could work up to it and the pet shop owner suggested I make visits to the snake so we could become better acquainted."

Fortunately or unfortunately, depending on how you look at it, plans were changed when the store owner reported that a local teen-ager had purchased the snake.

Oh, well, that's show biz!

THIS AND THAT....

Friends of DANIEL COLLINS will be happy to hear that he is well on his way to recovery following open heart surgery at the Veterans Hospital in Palo Alto three weeks ago....

Two Campbell Artist Guild members currently have one man (in this case "woman") shows on display at Campbell banks. REGINA GREENLEAF is showing landscapes and florals done in traditional oils at the PruneYard Crocker National Bank. ELINORE DWYER has a collection of seascapes and landscapes on display at the First National Bank on Winchester Blvd. and Budd Ave. Mrs. Dwyer also has paintings being shown at the Campbell Civic Center....

Bronze medal winner STEVEN BARNETT is the guest speaker February 20, for the Capri Home and School Club's Father and Son night. Mr. Barnett is a member of the United States Water Polo Team that won bronze medals in the 1972 Olympics in Munich....

MASEL SHEEHAN of East Campbell Avenue had a happy surprise recently when friends arranged a birthday party luncheon for her at the Outlook....

ANOTHER BIRTHDAY....

The Abigail Circle of the Womens Society of the First United Methodist Church held an afternoon tea February 1, for their long-time member Mrs. CORA SAVAGE, honoring her 85th birthday.

Double ring ceremony unites

In an afternoon mass at Saint Lucy's Church in Campbell, Mary Ann Scrivano became the bride of Rocky John Shull in a double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sal Scrivano of Campbell. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Shull of Campbell.

The bride chose on her wedding day a flowing satin faced organza with chantilly lace, and a full chapel length train. A floral headpiece of white baby roses held secure a fingertip length veil. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses, baby's breath, and blue baby carnations.

Carolyn Scrivano, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Other bridal attendants were Patricia Mitchell of Cupertino and Debbie Clark of Campbell. Each wore a gown of midnight blue velvet, trimmed in light blue lace. Floral headpieces of light blue baby carnations with baby's breath held the short veils. Bouquets were matching carnations with ribbon streamers.

The groom's brother, Gary Shull, of Los Gatos, served as best man. Guests were seated by ushers Louis Scrivano and Brad Burns, both of Campbell.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Scrivano was outfitted in a long tailored dress with a chiffon top and billowy bishop sleeves. Her skirt was of aqua flowered brocade accented by a full length vest coat of the same brocade.

The groom's mother wore a full length gown of pink, trimmed in silver, with silver accessories.

Among guests attending the wedding was Jo Ann Albanese, the bride's great aunt from Brooklyn, New York. Her gown was made of black polyester, topped with an irridescent metallic pattern of diamond squares.

A reception was held at the "Royal Fork Buffet" in Campbell. The couple left on a honeymoon trip to southern California and Disneyland.

The bride is a 1969 graduate of Campbell High, and is employed at Memorex Corporation in Santa Clara. The groom, a 1969 graduate of Saratoga High, is employed at Farinon Electronics in San Carlos. Both are graduates of West Valley College.

The couple will make their home in Campbell.

"Stimulation games" are planned with attending members and guests participating. A film dealing with injustice called "The Hangman" will also be shown.

Meditation in the chapel begins at 9:30 a.m. A lunch will be served by the Martha Circle.

Taped cookbook for the blind will be available here

Campbell Library's Special Outreach Services will soon have cassette tape recordings of the new "We Care Cookbook," due to the continuing efforts of the West Valley Federated Women's Club of San Jose.

Authors Robert D. and Kathy S. Reed recently granted recording rights to the organization for tapes which will also be used for special adult and teen cooking classes for the blind. These classes are sponsored by the San Jose Parks and Recreation Department and other special service organizations.

Reed, a Palo Alto publisher, became concerned with helping further the CARE program and compiled the cookbook, which includes a wide variety of recipes from the nineteenth century up to present times.

Proceeds from sale of the book go to further this program and special emphasis is on feeding starving children of the world. According to Mrs. Sherman Schroder, women's club member, the purchase of each book will feed some 300 children. The cookbook may be purchased by ordering directly from Reed, 18581 McFarland Ave., Saratoga, at a cost of $3 plus 35 cents for handling charges.

Through the group's efforts the San Jose city library now houses a cassette tape library with children's folk classics, contemporary children's stories and Bible stories.

More funds are needed for this program and the Loma Prieta District of the California Federation of Womens Clubs ask those interested in helping to contact Florence S. Peer, 896 Greenbay Ct., San Jose.

Terrarium talk to be featured

Mrs. Henry Kahrmann of Campbell is one of the speakers at the Tuesday, February 20 meeting of the African Violet Society.

"Terrarium and Glass Planting," is the topic to be discussed by Mrs. Kahrmann and Mrs. Clyde McGee of Saratoga at the 1 p.m. meeting in the Northern California Savings Community Room, 10250 Saratoga-Sunnyvale Rd., Cupertino.

Society meetings are open to the public.

INDIA IS TOPIC

Connie Woodward will speak on "Life in India" at the Women's Fellowship meeting at the Campbell Congregational Church, 400 W. Campbell Ave., Thursday, February 15.

MOTHERS' CLUB

The Mothers' Club of the First United Methodist Church will hold their monthly meeting on Thursday, Feb. 22, at 9:30 a.m. in the Fireside Room of the Fellowship Hall.

Those with crafts are asked to bring them to show.

Child care will be provided.

West Valley Sports

CAGERS COAST

West Valley came back last week after their 72-70 loss to Contra Costa to blow off the Santa Rosa Bear Cubs 104-74 in the Campbell High gym. The loss, however, cost the Vikings a share of first place in the league.

The split pushes WVC's season ledger to 20-4 and drives their CNC log to 7-2. WVC is currently ranked second in the state among large junior colleges.

The Vikings will meet their top rival, DeAnza, in an 8 p.m. battle on the DAC floor this Wednesday.

DeAnza beat Santa Rosa 62-52 last Wednesday while the Vikes were falling to CCC. On Saturday, while WVC was blowing off SR, the Dons were trimming Skyline 67-65 in double overtime.

West Valley will meet those pesky Trojans Saturday night at 8 p.m. in the Campbell High gym in another important battle. The Vikes beat Skyline 105-81 early in the season at the Cabrillo Classic. But when the two met for the first time in CNC action in January, Skyline pulled off an 80-77 upset win.

Ten Vikings burst into the scoring column last Saturday against Santa Rosa, a team West Valley barely trimmed 67-66 the last time they met.

Paul Boskovich (St. Francis) led all scorers in the ballgame with his 22 points, but Enver Apaydin (Blackford) was close behind with 21. Paul Arace (Del Mar) bombed home 20 in the win. Joining the trio in double figures were Tim Walsh (Mitty) with 13 and Tim Tolbert (Camden) with 10.

Rick Hile (Mitty) was next in the scoring parade with six and Bruce Batinich (Blackford) and Bill Freed (Prospect) hit four each. Craig Perkins (Saratoga) and Dave Hubbard (Prospect) hit two each in the game.

Hile led all scorers for WVC with 18 on Wednesday, but Batinich and Boskovich chipped in 12 and 10, respectively. Tolbert and Arace added eight apiece and Apaydin and Walker got seven each.

STALL COSTS WVC

A stalling point in the heavyweight class just about figured as Santa Rosa's margin of victory last week when they pulled out a tight 21-20 Camino Norte Conference victory over West Valley College.

Doug Allen (Los Gatos) and his heavyweight foe from SR were deadlocked at 5-5 with less than a minute left to wrestle. Just a draw in the bout would have given the Vikes a 22-20 team victory. But with about 15 seconds left in the final round, Allen, out of action for the past month, was tagged with a stalling call and lost 6-5.

Valley will be around home for CNC action this week when they travel to DeAnza to meet the unbeaten Dons and Canada in the double dual match. DAC boast a 12-0 league record and the Vikes sit at 9-3.

The Vikings lost every match they wrestled against Contra Costa in the second half of their double dual last week--but they only had to wrestle once!

Contra Costa, the only team who can send their team into action on a motorcycle instead of in a bus, forfeited at eight weights and had only one grappler on hand to wrestle.

Angel Soliz (Wilcox), Mitch Vierra (Westmont), Mike Walker (Campbell), Kevin Locke (Buchser), Don Arata (Peterson), Roger McCampbell (Peterson), Dale Robinson (Saratoga) and Allen were each awarded wins against CCC. Jeff Ulrich (Branham) lost to the only Comet in competition.

Things were much more balanced against SR. Soliz and Ulrich were pinned in the first two bouts but Dave Mendez (Buchser) and Vierra won 6-5 and 10-5 decisions, respectively.

Walker lost 17-1 but Locke pinned his foe at 3:29 to make the team score close at 16-12. Gary Russell (Leigh) pulled WVC to within a point at 16-15 with a 12-5 victory.

Brad Harrison (Campbell) maintained the spread with a 5-5 draw. Robinson put the Vikings ahead for the first time in the match with a 6-4 win. But that just set the stage for the heavyweight heartbreaker.

READY...SET... --- Rosemary students get set for a race. All pictured above placed within the top 15 percentile of the President's Council on Physical Fitness tests.

OLYMPIC MEDAL WINNER SEEKS JOB --- Lynn Vidali, who took the bronze medal in the 200 individual medley at the 1972 Olympics, is attending classes at West Valley College, but is also seeking a job. She said she had been considered for a swim coaching job but feels she was turned down because she is a woman.

Lynn began swimming at the age of six in San Francisco and by the age of nine held several national records. She joined the Santa Clara Swim Club, coached by George Haines, and she won a silver medal in the 1968 Olympics. After the Olympics in Germany in 1972 she enrolled at West Valley on a part-time basis hoping to find a full-time job. But a full-time job has not materialized. She hopes to turn professional later this year and compete nationally.

GAA HOCKEY CHAMPIONSHIP

Camden's GAA Hockey team captured first place in league finals Saturday, January 27, at Del Mar. The victory brought Camden its first first place ribbon since 1970 when hockey and basketball were victorious.

The second obstacle in the way of first place was Saratoga. The always hard-to-beat Falcons proved they too were no match for Camden as they fell by a score of 1-0.

The final game was to be played against Westmont. Camden lost only two games the entire season, one of them being to the lady Warriors. "I've never been so nervous," claimed Sue Hunt, hockey coach, about the conflict.

Westmont was a much more skilled team than the previous two Camden had faced that day. But the hard work of the Cougars proved that patience and perseverance do pay off at the end as they also won by a score of 1-0.

HELP FROM POSTERS---In an effort to cut down the cost of vandalism in school and recreational areas, posters designed by youngsters have been placed on major construction sites and recreation areas, sponsored by the Youth Industrial Safety Program, headed by John Marek. The cost of vandalism to public property and the injuries that resulted from such vandalism spurred the Youth Safety Program to hold a poster contest for elementary grade students. Another safety and vandalism contest will be held soon, Marek said.

Program offers language students European trip

Sponsored by the Foreign Language Association of Santa Clara County, 30 high school students, studying French, from the county will be able to spend four weeks (July 6—August 3), in private homes in the vicinity of Paris, and a similar group studying Spanish will live in homes in Madrid.

In a similar program, students from those countries will come to Santa Clara County for about three weeks as guests of local families.

According to Bob Sanchez, (Buchser High, Santa Clara), in charge of the Spanish group, the cost for the French group will be $695 and the Spanish $730, covering all expenses for the charter-flight from Oakland-to-Oakland, travel in Europe by train and bus, field trip excursions, etc. The programs are administered by the Foreign Study League of Salt Lake City.

Summer school credit of 10 units may be earned, if desired.

Students interested should contact Ernest Pope (Gunn High School, Palo Alto), French, or Sanchez (Buchser, Santa Clara), Spanish.

Students in this area can obtain information from Foreign Language Association members, Robert O'Neil, Susan Thomas, Karen Aiken, Del Mar; Pat McInerny, Howard Allen, Campbell; Margaret Guyer, Norma Claycomb, Camden; Sue Rewah, Paul Turner, Prospect.

Sanchez reports that there is no deadline for sign-ups, but only the first 30 in the two groups will be accepted.

He also added that Cindy Blackman of Del Mar High, was the first student in this district to sign up for the Spanish program.

A DEMONSTRATION --- Six recipients of the President's Physical Fitness Awards demonstrate one of the tests used. All are students at Rosemary School.

THREE WINNERS--Pictured above are three of some 592 students in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District who received the President's Physical Fitness awards. According to Joe Stein, physical education consultant for the district, last year Campbell students showed an increase of 260 over the number who passed the tests in 1971.

Speaking OF taxes

Readers' comments and questions are welcomed. Those of general interest will be covered in "Speaking of Taxes." Address your letters to: Speaking of Taxes, P. O. Box 158, Campbell, Ca. 95008

by Pat Safford, vice president of the Greater Bay Area chapter of the Assn. of Enrolled Agents

Q—My ex-wife has threatened to turn my name into the Internal Revenue Service. I haven't cheated on my taxes but I don't want them checking my returns. Can she do this?

A—You bet! However, you should explain to her that when the IRS is "tipped off" to check on an individual return they often will check on the former spouse's return as well. Each year the IRS receives many of these "tips."

Many are nothing more than spite calls. Since the IRS has a policy of "rewarding" tipsters with a percentage of additional taxes collected in some cases, individuals have an added incentive to turn in others they feel are cheating on their taxes.

Where the tipster does not leave his or her name, however, and where there has been a divorce or separation in the accused individual's background, the natural conclusion is that the ex-spouse is the one pointing the finger.

Q—A friend of mine claimed his roommate as a dependend last year on his taxes. The deadbeat didn't work all last year but is it legal to claim a person not related?

A—Of course, provided all dependency tests are met. 1. The individual received less than $750 income. 2. He or she received over 50% of their support from you. 3. The individual did not file a joint return with their spouse. 4. He or she was a citizen or resident of the U.S., a resident of Canada, Mexico, Panama or the Canal Zone (or an alien child adopted by and living with a U.S. citizen in a foreign country).

5. Lived in your home as a member of your family for the entire tax year, and 6. The relationship between you and the individual was not in violation of local law.

In the above case, if the individual also received welfare benefits, these would not be counted as income but would have to be considered as support furnished by others. For example, if the roommate received $600 in welfare benefits during 1972, you would have to show that you contributed an amount greater than this. In dependency cases, support includes food, lodging, clothing, medical and dental care and educational costs.

A PROBLEM IN FRESNO

According to San Francisco District IRS Public Information Officer Stuart Patt, the Fresno Service Center is receiving scores of returns without the revenue sharing section (on the 1040, page 2, lines 33 and 34) filled in.

In many cases, he says, this delays processing of the return until the taxpayer can be contacted by mail.

The news release also points out that the Revenue Sharing Act provides for assessment of a $5 penalty for failure to respond to a Service Center request for this information (in other words, answer that letter).

On the new 1040A the Revenue Sharing information is on line 26 and 27.
